Sections of Country Well Recognized in Wilson's Cabinet Selections

SUN IS SHUT OFF

Dawn of Wilson's Inauguration

No Such Discomforts as Made Taft's Inauguration So . Miserable.

Miscrable.

Miscrable.

[By Associated Press.]

Washington, March 4.—Inauguration day dawned cold and gray. A solld bank of heavy clouds completely shut off the sun. With a temperature between 45 and 50 degrees a light south wind fanned the city, but no such discomforts as attended the inauguration blizzard of four years ago were experienced.

Daylight found things moving swiftly toward the chimax of the day's program. About the Shoreham Hotel, where Mr. Wilson was stopping, a small crowd, kept at a distance by police, waited for a glimpse of the new President. Another' crowd, admirers of Mr. Taft, waited at the White House grounds for a glimpse of him. The grounds, however, had been closed to the public, and the throng waited at a distance.

Mr. Wilson ate breakfast alone in his room about 9 o'clock, He glanced at some of the morning papers and then looked at some mail. One of Mr. Wilson's callers asked him if he had anything to say to the American.

Misson and her daughters meanwhile entered the spaces reserved for them in the Spoate at an cloth dress, with a brown-ribbed silk cloak, and a small hat to match. Miss Margaret Wilson wore blue silk poplin, Miss Jessie Wilson lavender broadcloth, and Miss Eleanor Wilson a bright blue cloth dress.

At 11:30 o'clock committees from the House and Senate waited upon President Taft. In the marble room and gave formal notification that Congress' was gathered in the President's room, said good-by to Mr. Taft and were introduced to Mr. Wilson.

Neither Mrs. Taft nor any other members of the Cabinet who did not ride in the procession to the Capitol good-by to Mr. Taft nor any other member of the President's family occupied the space reserved for them in the Senate galleries or on the stand at the east front.

At 11:45 o'clock Vice-President Marshall. Accompanied by the congressional committee, was ushered into the front row, facing the president family occupied the space reserved for them in the Senate chamber and given a seat in the front row, facing the president family and Miss Helen just before 9 o'clock in the private dining room of the

The Princeton students and University of Virginia students, who were to form the line between which Mr. Wilson was to pass on his way to the White House, began arriving. The Essex Troop, Mr. Wilson's escort, and the Cuiver Troop, Mr. Marshall's escort, began to appear. Their bright uniforms and their prancing mounts added action to the scene.

Mr. Wilson instructed his secretary more active as the morning wore on. The Princeton students and Univer-sity of Virginia students, who were

Mr. Wilson instructed his secretary, Mr. Marshall entered the chamber r. Tumulty, to learn at what time for the second time at 12:30. Preswill be composed of the men who have been unofficially named. Shortly after 2 o'clock William Jennings Bryan called with William F. Mc-took the seak, and at 12:34 o'clock took the oath. tional Committee, to see Mr. Wilson.
The President-elect greeted both with the Senate sine die and the organization of the new Senate over, Vicento a conference in Mr. Wilson's President Marshall began to deliver

He was wearing a frock coat and a rose-colored tie. He said he had been informed by congressional leaders that the business of the extra session would be ready by April 1, but added that the date was subject to change. At that time Senators Bacon, Crane and Overman and Representatives Rucker, McKinley and Garrett, the congressional committee in charge of the ceremonies, arrived to take Mr. Wilson and Mr. Marshall to the White House. Then the Culver Troops and the Essex Troop had lined up outside the hotel and the Princeton and Virginia men formed a lane toward the executive mansion.

Famous Ride Begins.
At 10:27 the ride to the Capitol began. In the first carriage were President Taft and Mr. Wilson, Senators Crane and Bacon. In the second carriage were Mr. Marshall, Senator Overman and Representative Rucker. In the third rode Representatives Mc Kinley and Garrett.

The party moved briskly down Pennsylvania Avenue. To roars of cheers President Taft and Mr. Wilson gave their acknowledgments, Postgave their acknowledgments, Post-master-General Hitchcock and Secremaster-General Hitchcock and Secre-taries MacVeagh Fisher and Wilson were the only members of the Cabinet to accompany the party to the Capitol. Vice-President Marshall's carriage followed closely, and immediately be-lind marched the White House corre-spondents and the newspaper men who have been with Mr. Wilson in the cam-

The party proceeded down Pennsylvania Avenue slowly until it neared

Any Woman Can Have

Daudruff Disappears, Falling Hair Censes, When You Use Parisian Sage.

to stop falling hair; eradicate dan-druff and make women's hair beauti-

No preparation has done so much

It is the only certain destroyer of he dandruff microbe, the cause of most hair troubles.

Parisian Sage is most daintily per-fumed. It is an ideal preparation, not sticky or greasy, does not contain pois-onous sugar of lead or any harmful ingredient.

It is a magnificent dressing for women who desire luxurant, lustrous hair that compels admiration, and for men and children nothing can compare

Washington, March 4.—Information was obtained on good authority to-day that William F. McCombs, chairman of the Democratic National Committee, has been offered, and has accepted, the appointment of ambassador to France. No official appointment of ambassador to France. Does away with terrible scalp itch over night and causes the hair to grow that William F. McCombs, chairman of the Democratic National Committee, has been offered, and has accepted, the appointment of ambassador to France. No official announcement was made today, but it is expected the nomination will be sent to the Senate with those of members of the Cabinet to-morrow. in abundance.

A large bottle costs only 50 cents at all drug and toilet goods counters. The Tragle Drug Co. guarantees Parisian Sage.—Advertisement.

WALL TO THE TOTAL OF THE PARTY OF THE PARTY

BY HEAVY CLOUDS

Into a canter. Thus the cavalcade galloped up Capitol Hill. While the crowd along the route was demonstrative, it was respectful and orderly.

Arriving at the Capitol, Mr. and Mrs. Arriving at the Capitol, Mr. Taft and Mr. Wilson were escorted to the Presidents room, where Mr. Taft began signing bills. Mr. Marshall went to the Vice-President's room. The two parties remained until Congress had done up the last bit of its work, and was ready for the inauguration of the Vice-President in the Senate chamber.

Shown His Room.

When President Taft and Mr. Wilson approached the President's room, Mr. Taft turned to the President elect and said:

said:
"Well, Mr. President, here's your at some of the morning papers and then looked at some mail. One of Mr. Wilson's callers asked him if he officer.

then looked at some and the Mr. Wilson's callers asked him if he had anything to say to the American people on the morning of his inauguration.

"I'll wait until norm," he returned smiling.

Taft at Work Early.

President Taft, after a few hours' sleep, was discovered by White House sleep, was discovered by White House him his study be-on the Senate floor which were allot-ted to President Wilson's Cabinet. Jo-sephus Daniels and William G. Mc-in the private dining room of the White House, where the three breakfasted simply.

Three hours before the ceremonies at the Capitol were scheduled to begin, the entire east front was packed with a crowd. Scenes about the Shoreham Hotel and the White House became more active as the morning wore on.

sephus Daniels and William G. Mc-Adoo were the first to take scats there. William Jennings Bryan and Franklin K. Lane then held a brief reception. Then each took a chair in the Cabinet row. Representative Redfield entered the chamber a moment later and took his place with the other Cabinet appointers.

Senate Causes Delay.

time at 12:30. Pres-President-Elect Wilthe would be proper to transmit his ident Taft and President-Elect Wil-Cabinet nominations to the Senate, No son appeared at the Senate door four one in Washington doubts the Cabinet minutes behind Mr. Marshall. They room.

When Mr. Bryan came out of Mr. Wilson's room he held in his hand one of the ten invitations which had been issued to the new Cabinet members, providing places in the Senate chamber for the inauguration.

After his conference with Mr. Bryan, Mr. Wilson came out of his room to meet the newspaper correspondents.

CAREER OF WOODROW WILSON.

1856-Born December 28, at Staunton, Va., a son of Dr. Joseph R. Wilson, a Presbyterian minister, and Jessie Woodrow Wilson.

1879—Graduated from Princeton, with degree of A. B.

1879-Studied law at the University of Virginia.

1882-Practiced law in Atlanta.

1890-Accepted the chair of jurisprudence and politics at Princeton University, and elected president of Princeton in 1902.

1910-Nominated, September 15, for Governor of New Jersey; elected November 8.

1912-Nominated July 2, for President by the Democratic party at Baltimore.

1912-November 5, elected twenty-eighth President of the United States.

1913-March 4, takes oath of office as President of the United States.

CAREER OF THOMAS R. MARSHALL.

1854-Born March 14, at North Manchester, Ind., a son of Dr. Daniel M. Marshall and Martha E. (Patterson) Marshall.

1873-Graduated from Wabash College, Crawfordsville, Ind., with degree of A. M.

1875—March 14, admitted to the bar.

1898-Refused the Democratic nomination for Con-

1908-Nominated for Governor of Indiana on the Democratic ticket for four-year term, and elected November 3.

1909-January 11, inaugurated Governor of Indiana.

1912-July 3, nominated for Vice-President early in the morning at the Baltimore Democratic conven-

1912-November 5, elected Vice-President of the Unit-

1913-March 4, takes oath of office as Vice-President of the United States.

West Point cadets stood the Essex at 1:54. Troop, President wilson's guard of William J. Bryan was the President Marshall took his seat at the left of President Taft. A burst of applause and cheers greeted Champ Clark as he passed on to the inaugural stand at the head of the line of House members.

The champ of the inaugural stand at the head of the line of House the White House.

President Wilson passed between the White House on the way back to cheering througs on the way back to

The east front of the Capitol sweeping down from the dome to the ground and out as far as the Congressional Library and neighboring apartment buildings presented a brilliant scene good-by to Mr. Wilson and went to and out as far as the Congressional way Library and neighboring apartment At buildings presented a brilliant scene good of color.

of color.

Speaker Clark leaned toward President-Elect Wilson, and the two shook hands, bringing more applause from the crowd. Applause came from the crowd near the entrance of the Capitol door as former Speaker Cannon emerged, and swelled into a large volume as William J. Bryan came forward with the other guests comprising the membership of President Wilson's Cabinet.

Mr. Bryan, Mr. McAdoo, Mr. Redfield, Representative Burleson, Mr. Daniels, Franklin K. Lane, Representative William B. Wilson, Professor Houston and the others of the new Cabinet were escorted to seats as the crowd voiced its approval by chers. Mrs. Wilson and her daughters took seats close to the square platform at the left. At Mrs. Wilson's request, Mrs. Marshall took a seat beside her. The two women walked forward to the rail to look at the crowd. The Wilson girls joined in.

The Wilson Cabinet on the stand included all but James McReynolds, the new Attorney-General, who had been Mr. Bryan, Mr. McAdoo, Mr. Redfield. new Attorney-General, who had been unable to attend. President Taft, who had sat with a good-natured smile on his face as the crowd surged about, burst into a hearty laugh when some one yelled, "Where is Teddy?"

It was 1:34 o'clock when Chief Justice White and the control of the control of Holds Close Attention.

President Wilson's voice at first failed to carry into the crowd, but as Immediately in front of the presidential platform Major-General Wood and his general staff held a space clear. Across the open space loomed a battery of nearly 100 cameras and from behind the clouds. A storm of

May Be Ambassador to France

WILLIAM F. M'COMBS.

Called from the reviewing stand to

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

motion picture machines. Back of the cheers greeted the ending of his speech | ington's Birthday, and also the New continuity with the nation's past."

Troop, President Wilson's guard of honor, and near them the Black Horse Troop of Culver Academy.

President-Elect Wilson and President Taft bowed to the crowd as they took their seats in the centre of the platform.

President-Elect Wilson sat at the right of President Taft, while Vice-President Marshall took his seat at the left of President Taft, a burst from the inaugural stand to the Senform to shake hands with the President. He then shook hands with Mr. Taft. The party then prepared to head the procession back to the White House started at 1:57 P. M.

Vice-President Marshall returned from the inaugural stand to the Senform the inaugur good-by to Mr. Wilson and went to join Mrs. Taft and Mr. Hilles to leave for Augusta. The inaugural procession followed the presidential party at a slower pace and halted before passing through the court of honor until a luncheon being given by President Wilson to the inaugural committee was over

At its conclusion President Wilson took his place in the stand before the White House and the procession passed

FUTURE CAUSING

oming of a Democratic administration after a lapse of sixteen years, Washingtonians are naturally interested in what effect the newcomers will have ite White stepped forward, the party arose and President-Elect Wilson raise and President Elect the newcomers will have on the social life of the capital. The part that former Democratic administrations played in society here is being trations played in society here is being trations played in society here is being the first occupants of the White House got along at night with candles and the lighting apparatus of the curly days of the country. Gas was installed in 1848, and a system of heat-birthagy. He also did away with the ling and ventilating in 1853. For the birthage with Elect Wilson raise and President Elect Transmitted Elect Transmitt of former President Roosevelt and Mrs. last four years, or as was the custom The first inaugural ball even given in Roosevelt. In fact, it was the Roosevelts who first broke down the hard and fast rule that the President and his wife should attend only those dinners given by members of the Cabinet outside of the White House.

When President Roosevelt and Mrs. was removed to make room for the extension to the Treasury Building. The main building continued to be both the oeffices and residence of Presidents until the fall of 1902. In the spring of that year Congress appropriated $65, even by members of the Cabinet outside of the White House.

When President Cleveland first came there was removed to make room for the extension to the Treasury Building. The main building continued to be both the oeffices and residence of Presidents until the fall of 1902. In the spring of that year Congress appropriated $65, even was removed to make room for the extension to the Treasury Building.

white House. White House. modeling and refurnishing the White When President Cleveland first came House. When President Cleveland first came to Washington to enter the White House he was unmarried. With him came Miss Rose Elizabeth Cleveland, a sister of the President, to rule as "first lady of the land" in the White House. She proved herself a gracious hostess. She proved herself a gracious hostes. The first inaugural ball even given in worked out.

bers of Congress and another, to the judiciary, and have eliminated the reception on Washington's

Among the members of Congress vho entertained with lavish hand during the Cleveland administration were Senator and Mrs. Calvin S. Brice.
Buys Country Home.

During the first Cleveland administration the President purchased a country home on Woodley Lane, with about thirty acres of ground about it, and he and Mrs. Cleveland spent much of their

The visit to Washington and the White House of the Infanta Eulalia of Spain was one of the most interesting social events which took place during this administration. She came to this administration. She came to Washington in May, 1893, with nine-teen Spanish grandees in her train. A state banquet was given her at the state banquet was given her at the White House. Another member of a royal family who visited the White House during the last administration of Cleveland was Prince Yorihuito Komato, grand nephew of the Mikado.

Washington Portrait Saved.

The burning of the White House by the British furnished the setting for one of the most picturesque stories associated with the historic structure. Although historians disagree as to the sociated with the historic structure. Although historians disagree as to the person who actually did save the portrait, the story goes that Dolly Madison, wife of President James Madison, upon learning that a troop of British soldiers had started toward the White House with the intention of sacking it, climbed upon a mantel and cut the Stuart sainting of George Washington a byword. Although Jefferson liked the British had left the city. In this way the greatest of all Washington portraits was saved.

which were magnificent. Secretary of War Endicott and Mrs. Endicott also made a national reputation for the splendor of their entertainments. Mrs. Daniel Manning was one of the most charming of hostesses during the administration of Cleveland.

Precedents Broken.

In those days, however, the President and his wife did not attend nearly as many dinners and other entertainments of former President Rooseveit and Mrs. and plant of the west terrace and buildings were used to make the conservatory and stables, of former President Rooseveit and Mrs. last four years, of as was the custom.

The main building continued to be both as imposing. They are thouse in the secretary of state.

Strife Under Monroe.

The new White House was thrown open in 1818, when Monroe was President Shouse." It is supposed that the west terrace and buildings were used to make room for the located the conservatory and stables, was removed to make room for the strife between Mrs. Hay, a daughter of the President, and members of the diplomatic corps. Mrs. Hay laid down of etienette, which of-frooms, etc., which are consisted to complete the extension of the Executive Man is the extension of the Executive Man is not its east site.

Descritions and Particulary.

Descritions and Particulary.

Fresident Cleveland and his slater, and later his wife, did away with white House and instantion of asking the president of the control of a state of the times and that within the limits of annual appropriations, varying from 19,000 to 326. All the man of the white House and the president in a message to Congital of the Congress of the president in a message to Congital of the Congress and the White House. The President in a message to Congress and the White House are now the president in a message to Congress and the White House are now the congress and the white House are now the most later.

When President Cleveland had been in office only a little more than a year of the worlding will be the congress to the president in a message to Congress and the provision of the president in a message to Congress and the provision of the president in a message to Congress and the provision of the president in a message to Congress and the provision of the president in a message to Congress and the provision of the provisi credited to this country attended the have come the vivid contrast of profirst New Year reception of Cleveland's Vious days, second administration. They were the ambassadors from Great Britain, day. The strain and overwork of the France, Italy and Germany.

Never had there been a more brit- him liant administration socially than that of Buchanan, up to that time, Jeffercan court during the administration of Buchanan than at any time since the days of George Washington." The brilliant and beautiful Miss Harriet Lane, niece of the President, presided in the White House. It was during this administration that the then Prince of Wales, who was later Edward VII. of England, visited Washington as Baron Renfrew. He was entertained, of course, at the White House. House.

Others in White House.

Other Democratic administrations were those of Jefferson, Monroe, Jackson, Van Buren, Tyler, Polk and Pierce, Jefferson is looked upon as the patron saint of the present Democratic party, though in those days he was called a Republican. The Federalists were the opposition party. John Outpus, Adams

It Is Speculating as to Activities in Administration of Wilson.

Washington, March 4.—With the incoming of a Democrate the Activities of a diers, and is said to have taken it to the name of Democrats.

Stuart painting of George Washington from its frame.

She carried this with her when she hurried from the White House a few minutes before the arrival of the soldiers, and is said to have taken it to White House.

White House Hous minutes before the arrival of the soldiers, and is said to have taken it to a farmhouse on the Tenleytown Road, where she stayed in hiding until after the British had left the city. In this House, receiving them in whatever cos-tume he happened to have on, whether fitting, in the eyes of the diplomats, the number of entertainments at the White House and for their brilliance. The members of the Cleveland Cabfor furnishing was $6,000.

The members of the Cleveland Cabfor furnishing was $6,000.

Griginal Terraces:

White House, or President's house, as the building, the average yearly cost it was then called, by his predecessors. His two daughters, Mrs. Randolph and Mrs. John Eppes, helped tertaining. William C. Whitney, Sected and the Navy under Cleveland, races something like those now congave digners, receptions and balls nected with the building, except not Washington, and it devolved upon which were magnificent. Secretary of So imposing. They are thought to have been creeted during Jefferson's his Secretary of State, James Madinary and the charming Dolly Madison, wife of have been creeted during Jefferson's his Secretary of State, James Madinary and the charming Dolly Madison, which were been creeted during Jefferson's his Secretary of State, James Madinary and the charming Dolly Madison, which were been creeted during Jefferson's him receive his guests on a few occasions, but they were seldom in the charming Dolly Madison, wife of which were seldom in the charming Dolly Madison, wife of the Charming Dolly Madison, with the Charming Dolly Madison with the Ch strict rules of etiquette, which of-fended the diplomats.

When Andrew Jackson came to the White House the elegance which had been manifested during the administrations of Adams and Monroe was forgotten, and the simplicity of the days of Jefferson was in evidence. He gave a public reception at the White House the night of his inauguration, She proved herself a gracious hostess. The first inaugural ball even given in the President of the President which resulted in a riot, about 20,000 persons crowding into the house. The people fought for food, broke thous-

VIVID CONTRAST OF PREVIOUS DAYS

Applause Is for Wilson as Taft Departs From White House.

FINAL TOUCH OF TRYING DAY

Strain and Overwork of Closing Hours Tell on Former President:

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Washington, March 4.-The old guard of a few faithful friends formfection of his countrymen, he left the White House this afternoon by the back door known as the south en-About the front doors and front of the Monticello court of honor the new king." To Citizen Talt must

It added the final touch to a trying last few days trying to clean house The last Democratic administration for the new administration had been that of Cleveland was almost more than his ready good naclosely to-day claim that Professor Taft felt strongly the sting of election defeat and the humiliation of the country's repudiation. The farewells to his friends was another trying scene, and altogether the former President lived to feel the old adago "one man's pleasure is another man's

In the President's room at the Capitol he signed the last bills, vetoed others, while the hands of time were held back.

Soon after noon Hon. Howard Taft went out of office, while Hon, Woodrow Wilson was placed Hon. Weedrow Wilson was placed in his honors. On the way back to the White House Citizen Taft felt the deprivation in the realization that the cheers of the multitude were for another—not for him.

other—not for him.
Exactly at 2:37 the Hon, William Howard Taft arrived again at the White House, but in a new role. It was as guest, not as host, he camo and it was with evident effort he dragged his nonderous frame over the dragged his ponderous frame over the polished floors to the quick step of his New Jersey successor. He had but a few minutes, and his last meal at the White House resembled a quick lunch. The dx-President's family did not attend the not attend the luncheon. They were the guest for lunch of Mrs. Thomas K. Laughlin, the President's sister-in-

The farewells between the Presidents, past and present, were given in the seclusion of the mansion, and soon it was learned that "Mr. Taft had left by the back way."

Mr. Taft's friends explained that he had stepped out, thus so as to attract no attention among the gay crowd at dent as he left the White House were Major Rhodes, his faithful secretary, to catch their train. At the depot Mr. Taft met Mrs. Taft, his daughter, Helem, and Mr. and Mrs. John Hays Hammond. Then he was taken in charge by the citizens' committee of Augusta, Ga., and whirled away on a special train for the South,

Mr. Taft Goes Through. Mr. Taft Goes Through.

Former President Taft and his party passed through Richmond at 7:15 o'clock last night on train $5 of the Atlantic Coast Line Railrond, which was fifty minutes late. The party, which occupied the private car "Faderal," was en route to Augusta Ga, where Mr. Taft will be a guest of the city for three weeks at the Bon Air Hotel. No special program for his entertainment has been arranged, it is stated.

tertainment has been arranged, it is stated.

Mr. Taft was accompanied by Mrs. Taft, Miss Helen Taft, Mrs. Thomas K. Laughlin, a sister of Mrs. Taft; Mr. and Mrs. Charles D. Hilles, and W. W. Mischler, his secretary. In another car on the same train was a committee of ten citizens of Augusta, who are escerting Mr. Taft to their city.

All the curtains in the former President's car were down when the train entered Byrd Street Station.

MRS. VANDERBILT INTERESTED.

Would Like to Attend Hearings of

Would like to Attend Hearings or Wagner Committee. [Special to The Times-Dispatch.] New York, March 4.—Before sailing to-day on the Kron Prinzessin Cecilie, Mrs. William K. Vanderbilt expressed her regret at not being able to attend hearings of the Wagner legislative committee.

"I am deeply interested in the treatment of the women who form the big social problem in this city," said Mrs. Vanderbilt. "I believe that if this class. of women could be taken out of tha reach of plain-clothes men of the police force, much good would result. Women investigators and women police could, I think, handle the problem far

Mrs. Vanderbilt was accompanied by

Beautiful Hair